With the help of Prof. Lim, we were able to comprehend complex formulas and understand its different uses in the financial world (you'd want to go back to your college math professor and tell him "I would have understood math better if you taught it this way!"). We also did Excel/Visual Basic exercises to better understand the different methodologies of VaR.

Prof. Lim has a way of connecting to the participants despite the alphabets at the end of his name. He was able to discuss what financial risk management is all about and how it can help your company to continue to do what it's best at!"

Seminar Background

Risk Management should be everybody's business, not just the CEO's, CFO's or the CRO's!

Financial Risk Management is crucial in all businesses.

During the recent crises, many companies suffered irrecoverable blows due to the lack of a proper risk management process, policies and framework. In addition to this lack, weak corporate governance also contributed to many failures that we have seen in recent times. We need to understand the Importance of embracing good practices that will bolster Operational Resilience.

As we move ahead, regulators here are requiring companies to implement means of measuring their financial risks (mark-to-market) and to be prudent, i.e., hedge their exposures (IAS 39). As a result, there is a need for companies to understand the various Market Risk Management concepts and know-how in order to identify, mitigate, measure, monitor and manage their risks successfully.
